DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING AT NEW ALBANY.

There was an outpouring of the gallant democracy of our sister State of Indiana, yesterday, at New Albany. Owing to an accident which threw the train of cars on the New Albany and Salem road off the track, Gov. Willard and Senators Bright and Pugh did not reach there in time, and consequently did not speak as expected. An audience of many thousands was in waiting with warm hearts, with banners and with music to welcome their gallant leaders. After waiting until 12 o'clock, Q. C. Grasty, Esq., of our city, was called for and introduced to the audience. Mr. Grasty, in a brief but eloquent address, spoke words of good cheer to our noble brothers of Indiana, and pledged the Democracy of Old Kentucky to shake hands with all Hoosierland over a glorious victory in November. Mr. Grasty's speech was loudly applauded.

Gov. Wright next took the stand, and in a speech of matchless eloquence and power, portrayed the danger of Black Republicanism. It was one of the very best speeches we have heard, and like all good Democratic speeches was unit to any latitude of this wide-spread Union of ours.

Gov. Wright almost ignored the existence of Mr. had no reason to complain of inattention, and we fancy Woolly hasn't got such a scorching Fillmore, but the friends of the woolly horse man for many a long day. Our Kentucky friends may set Willard's election down as certain and the Constitutional Union candidates, Buck and Brock, by a majority of 20,000.

Returning redguards.

The Hon. Charles J. Jenkins, late Know Nothing candidate for Governor of Georgia, has recently declared he can't go the Fillmore ticket, and announced his determination to support Buchanan and Breckinridge.

Gen. C. Fontaine, the Know Nothing candidate for Governor of Mississippi at the last election, has declared himself for Buchanan, and is doing all he can to ensure the largest majority ever given by that State for him.

Hon. A. L. Hopkins, of Alabama, has repudiated the Donelson ticket, and will give a cordial support to the people's ticket, the constitutional candidates, Buchanan and Breckinridge.

These are but a few. We could fill our paper with names of distinguished leaders of the K. N. party who battled against the Democracy last year, who now repudiate the Fillmore and Donelson ticket, and split upon the contemptible Abolition platform, upon which the fact that sustain them North stand. Will Southern Know Nothings disregard the warning voice of their own leaders and obey rather the mandates of the abolition allies at the North. The time has come to decide.

The New York Evangelist, a pretended religious, but really a Black Republican campaign sheet, gives an account of a late interview between a half-dozen preachers, in New York, with Colonel Fremont, upon the subject of his religion. He told his inquisitors that he had always been an Episcopalian, and was born and reared in that church. Per contra, the St. Louis Pilot says that in 1838, he, Fremont, was in that city, and that he was then looked upon by all Catholics as in full communion with their church, and that he went regularly to confession and communion. They give the name of a young gentleman (Flandrin) as authority for the statement. Flandrin, at that time associated with Fremont. The article in the Pilot throws great doubt upon Fremont's veracity.

ABOLITION DESIRE TO DEPOSE THE ALMIGHTY.—The Richmond Dispatch, commenting on Burlingame's declaration that "we must have an anti-slavery constitution, an anti-slavery Bible, and an anti-slavery God," says: "All three are against abolitionism, and therefore it calls new ones. It seeks to depose the Almighty from his throne, and place upon it an abolition God—in other words, the devil, who was the first rebel, and the father of abolitionists. The French, in the phreny of their revolutionary madness, deified a prostitute. The black Republicans would go as far—would depose the Almighty of his sceptre, and place Satan or Giddings on the seat of universal empire. We rather suspect they will meet with indifferent luck. We don't wonder that they want another God, for they have nothing to offer the God of the Bible, for their great captain failed in his attempt at abolishing the Ruler of the universe, and they are not likely to be more successful."

ELECTIONS IN OCTOBER.—Florida votes October 6th, and Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and South Carolina, on the 14th of October. These States are all that vote until after the Presidential election.

William Cary Jones, a brother-in-law of Fremont, is out in a strong article to the public giving reasons why Fremont should not be elected. It is a significant fact that all his near kinsmen, who know the man and his qualifications, are opposed to him.

THE BLACK REPUBLICANS FOR NEGRO SUFFRAGE.—At Bucyrus a large number of negroes were in procession at a Fremont meeting. Chase made a speech, and assured these darkies that the time was not far distant when they could not only march in procession but vote also.

FROST IN MISSOURI.—The Jefferson (Mo.) inquirer of Wednesday says: "For the last two mornings we have had heavy falls of frost, and vegetation begins to show signs of the frost king having been around."

The Brunsicker (Missouri), of the 20th inst., says the farmers are now busily engaged in cutting their tobacco crop. The early planting is now ripe, is of good size, and has been but little disfigured by the worms, hail or wind. The late tobacco will require at least three weeks yet to mature. Should there be no killing frost in that time, there will be something over a half crop raised in that section.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. N. F. Shannon, for several years conductor on the Lexington and Frankfort Railroad, left this place on Monday evening, or, horseback, for his residence, some eight or nine miles in the country. Soon after passing the toll gate on the Louisville turnpike, he was thrown from his horse and mortally injured. He was carried to the house of Mr. White, the gate-keeper, and every attention paid to him which his situation required, but he died about 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

MORTGAGE EMPLOYMENT.—An Ex-President of the United States, who desires a re-election, is using the franking privilege in distributing his own life.

'ROUND TOWN.—SIGNS AND SENTIMENTS.

A pleasant Sabbath evening a very short time since, we found ourselves strolling up Main street, meditating as we went upon the mutability of all sublunar things, and "mixing up" in our mind a variety of subjects, dissimilar, but in these sadly degenerate times often found side by side, check by jowl, in comical companionship. It seemed to us—as we thought—as we went, that the world was getting to be thoroughly possessed with the idea of "popular sovereignty." The crowded heads of the old world, in their stiff buckram addresses to their subjects, talk of "our good people," "our loyal subjects," and when an intense royal demagogue whose seat is any thing but secure, wishes to come into strong, he will, as old Louis Philippe used to do, even shake hands with a footman, and call him "fellow-citizen." There is a power in that little phrase, we confess; nor has the world yet but dimly understood it. A few years since the venerable President of the University of Turin took it to his head to publish a pamphlet which Mr. Pine, the superannuated old fog known as the Pope, (not our worthy Chancellor; "Sam" forbid!) but the old gentleman of whom the Know-Nothingings are so much afraid, thought he could do, he issued a full "gore" to go down the wrong-headed road.
